

FRONTLINE LEADERSHIP: RURAL WOMEN IN THE ANTI-FRACKING MOVEMENT

14 March 2018

8:30-10:00am

Salvation Army (downstairs)

221 E. 52nd Street between 2nd & 3rd Avenues

A discussion of struggle, success, and strategy featuring the hard-earned wisdom of:

- Aedín McLoughlin, PhD, CEO, Good Energies Alliance Ireland (County Leitrim, Ireland)
- Jeanne Shenandoah, Eel Clan Traditional Medicine Keeper, Haudenosaunee Environmental Task Force & Climate Solutions Summit (Onondaga Nation)
- Anna Klein, NYU graduate and lawyer in International and Comparative Law, Mining in Haiti Project (France)
- Julia Walsh, National and International Campaign Director, Frack Action (New York & Pennsylvania, USA)
- Chris Schimmoeller, activist leader in campaign against Bluegrass Pipeline (Kentucky, USA)

Moderator: Rev. Debra Gill, United Religions Initiative & NGO Mining Working Group

Coffee, tea, and light breakfast at 8:15am

RSVP by 12 March: <http://bit.ly/2Da1tLI>

SPONSORED BY:

The fracking-free future is female.